Central Valley in Top 10 for Jobs

(Stockton) – Hardly a week goes by without news stories of layoffs and soaring unemployment. But did you know the Central Valley is bucking this trend? The Stockton and Modesto metropolitan areas both rank in the top ten on a list of the best projected job growth areas nationwide. Come and see for yourself at Stockton’s Diversity HIREvent on Tuesday, October 21st at the Stockton Sheraton at Regent Pointe from noon to 4pm.

Jobseekers can meet with dozens of Central Valley companies recruiting to fill hundreds of jobs. Opportunities range from entry-level to management in finance, sales and marketing, social service, communications, customer service, law enforcement, and many more.

Attendees can also get personal attention from Career Specialists providing free one-on-one resume critiquing. Jobseekers should dress professionally, bring plenty of resumes, and be prepared to interview on the spot.
